Everything you need to know about petrol cards

What? More New Cars?

Yes, more new cars.

Flexicar News on the streets

Drive for 24, Pay for 4

Until Friday 29 January book any Flexicar on any weekday and get 24 hours for the price of four.

Just think where that would get you. A loooooong way. Maybe even to Great Ocean Road and back for a peek at the Twelve Apostles. Or a romantic getaway. Or one of the all-night sessions at the Dromana drive-in. It's perfect for summer.

Okay there are a few conditions to the offer (everyone has their limits).

- The offer applies only to personal drivers and on weekdays until Friday 29 January.
- The booking start time must be between 7am Monday and 7am Friday and no back-to-back bookings allowed.

Midsumma Festival 2010

We're the city of festivals. And Midsumma is one of the oldest and the best. We're proud sponsors again this year because we love Midsumma, and we know you guys do too.

Midsumma Festival is celebrating queer culture in Melbourne with a wide range of performing arts, visual arts, live music events, as well as community and sporting activities.

The festival runs until Sunday 7 February. And we have some tickets to give away for the opening night of Pink Shorts, a short play competition on Tuesday 26 January.

How can you win? Well, the only thing we love more than a good festival is a good competition, so here goes... The first five correct members to answer this mind-blowing question will win a double pass: What colour are the shorts?

Email your entries to membership@flexicar.com.au and you might win yourself a night on the town.

re:Flex: reFuel

Dear Flex,

Tweety and I had a funny refuelling adventure the other day.

Petrol went under the quarter of a tank mark during my booking and I went to Caltex to refuel.

When I went to pay, it was impossible to get the PIN right and I somehow blocked the petrol card.

I called the help line and the operator pointed out that as Tweety had a NSW registration number the PIN was different than for Victorian registration number.

I then read the re:Member manual and realised it was all explained in there. My bad.

So... I blocked the Caltex Card, my apologies.

Yours, Apologetic Refueler

Dear Apologetic Refueler,

Blocking or losing fuel cards is a bit of a problem, especially for your fellow members.

Here's a piece of advice to avoid fuel card issues:

festivals, and St Kilda Festival is a huge one.

Running from Sat 6 to Sun 14 Feb, the festival showcases everything great about St Kilda.

There's an outdoor indigenous festival on Sat 6 Feb that welcomes everyone to St Kilda for the week ahead.

Then for the following week there is music, food, children's entertainment, comedians and lots more. It all culminates in the big festival day on Sun 14 Feb.

If you plan on heading to St Kilda on Sun 14 Feb, catch a tram. The streets will be closed, the parking dreadful and the traffic mad!

Summer Fun in the City

Gather a group of friends or your family, book your favourite Flexicar and enjoy Melbourne's sunny days and balmy nights at Summer Fun in the City.

With dancing, live music, entertainment and art, plus activities such as flying trapeze lessons on offer, you know where you want to be.

Best of all, all Summer Fun in the City events are free!

- At the start of your booking, it is a good idea to check that all three petrol cards are in the Flexicar - you will also avoid a bad surprise if you need to refuel and the card went awol. If one or more are missing please call us immediately to report it.

- Always ensure you read the instructions provided in the "How to Refuel" section of the re:Member manual.

- If you block the card please let us know immediately so we can re-order one, and minimise the inconvenience for your fellow members.

Yours, Flex

What? More New Cars?

We keep adding cars and cars and cars.
